Coal Country Animal Rescue

check our website for more details: coalcountryanimalrescue.org

Foster Program

It all begins with you! We rely solely on our fosters. You are the most important part of our rescue. You provide love and shelter to animals in need. For some animals you may be their last chance. For some animals you may be their first wonderful human experience. Fostering is providing care for a pet that is currently in the possession of the rescue. You take care of your foster pet as though it were your own until we find the animal the right long-term, stable forever home. The more committed foster homes we have, the more lives we can save. Coal Country Animal Rescue provides all the supplies needed to foster.

There are many wonderful reasons to become a foster parent to a rescue dog or cat in need: Privilege of offering a needy animal a safe, comforting and supportive environment while he/she waits to be adopted or reunited with family following an emergency. Help socialize a rescue pet to enhance his/her adoption potential. Reduce the animal's stress, which improves his/her adoptability. Enjoy the benefits of pet ownership if you are unable to keep a full-time pet due to lifestyle or other restrictions. Please go to foster section to fill out application if interested or make a donations-monetary donations are tax deductible.

Sponsor a Pet Program

With a donation of just $25.00 a month, you can help take care of a pet. Your donation will help cover the cost of food, litter, medicine and much more. We are a 501c3 non-profit organization so your donation is tax deductible.

The average cost of intake (including vetting)
on one healthy animal:

Canine Female: $630 Canine Male: $580

Feline Female: $445 Feline Male: $380

These expenses do not include food, litter and medicine.

GUIDED HIKE ON THE NCT

“Salmon Run”

The North Country Trail Association’s Central Flyway Chapter will be offering a “guided” on hike October 15th @ 12:00 PM.

There will be two distance options. Please read the descriptions below.

Hike option #1 is approximately 5 miles long and begins at Lake Sakakawea State Park by the Western Terminus sign for the North Country Trail. The hike will follow the blue blazes of the NCT within the park boundaries and then exit the south end of the park. We will be crossing Highway 200 and then dropping down onto the Hatchery Road. From there the hike will follow the newest section of the North Country Trail which leads us across hatchery property and onto the trails within the Garrison Dam National Fish Hatchery. The hike will be led by a member of the NCTA Central Flyway Chapter.

Hike option #2 is approximately 2.5 miles long. You will begin your hike at the fish cleaning station. The fish cleaning station is located along the Hatchery Road below the dam. We will have signs identifying that area. The hike will be led by a member of the NCTA Central Flyway Chapter

We will shuttle hikers back to the start of their hike.

Pets are welcome on the hike and must be leashed at all times. Please bring bags for pet waste.

As we hike in this area we will have the opportunity to watch the salmon running in the streams throughout the hatchery. Each fall the chinook salmon return to the hatchery waters to spawn.

It is an exciting time of the year at the hatchery, with all kinds of migratory birds as well as the running of the salmon. The colors of fall among the majestic cottonwood trees should also be spectacular..

We are excited to have the North Country Trail be a part of the beautiful trail system within the hatchery boundaries. It will allow hikers to be off the road and to experience the beauty of this area which includes the views of the mighty Missouri River.

We are very appreciative to have this new section of trail and we are extremely thankful to the Garrison Dam Fish Hatchery, Lake Sakakawea State Park, and the Army Corps of Engineers for helping to enhance this area of the North Country Trail in North Dakota.

Thank you from Pick City

Thank you to all the residents of Pick City and the surrounding communities who came far & near to Celebrate and support our 75th milestone.

So many Amazing people volunteered countless hours to help make our celebration a huge success.

What a fabulous day for our little town.

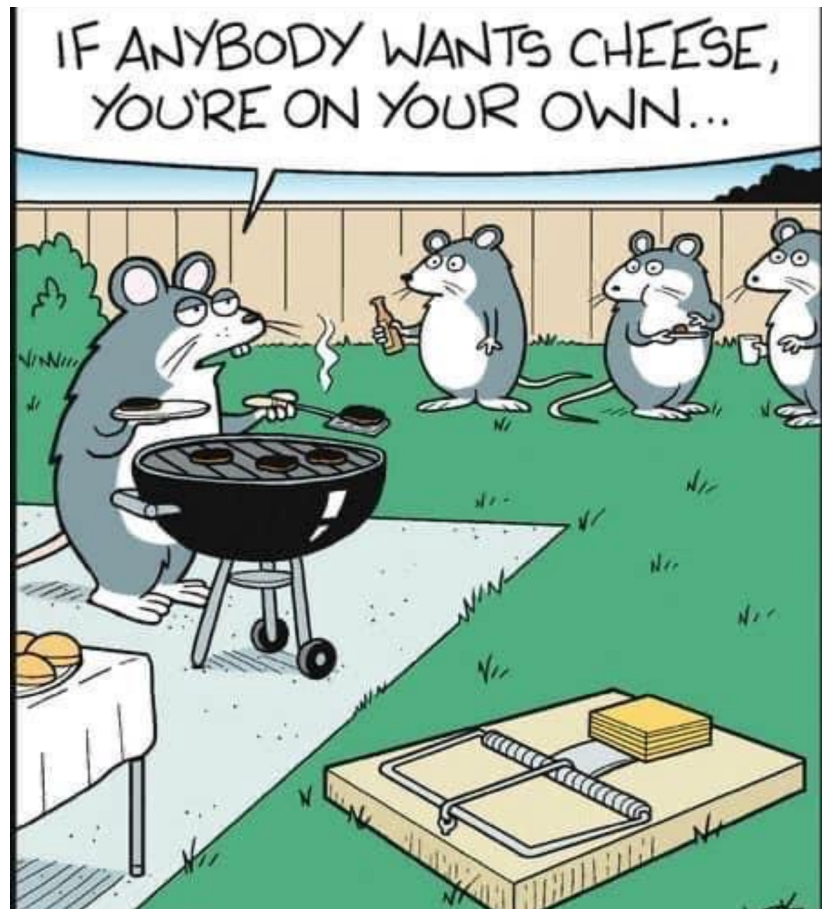

Everyone who took part had a great time. We truly appreciate all the support & the many compliments we received after the celebration.

THANK YOU – THE CITY OF PICK CITY

One special Riverdale boy makes a huge difference for the residents of Benedictine in Garrison

articled copied from Minot News Sept 13, 2023

Butterfly Project takes flight at Benedictine Garrison

KATHRIN YOUNGBERG
Marketing Director, Benedictine

The newly hatched Monarch butterfly climbs gingerly on the hand of seven-year-old Madden Fuentes. Madden lifts it up slowly, and the butterfly takes flight into the sky. The residents of Benedictine Living Community-Garrison respond with cheers and applause as they watch the Monarch embark on a new adventure. Madden, known as the “Leader of the Butterfly Brigade,” became interested in butterflies around age 3. He and other family members, including his aunt, uncle, sister and grandparents, began observing them outdoors and were fascinated by their metamorphosis, the process in which a caterpillar turns into a butterfly. Madden’s grandmother planted milkweed in her garden to provide a welcome habitat. Later, Madden and his family built a butterfly house full of milkweed so they could observe the caterpillars up close and better understand this amazing part of nature.

Madden’s aunt and uncle, Ivy and Marcus Bicknese, who work at senior care community Benedictine Garrison, discovered that one of their new residents, Georgean Gullickson, also had a love of butterflies. A former elementary school teacher in Minot for 37 years, she shared her knowledge of butterflies with her students every year. In 1952, Georgean won an Entomology Award for a butterfly display she made. A scrapbook of her life developed by her family has a Monarch butterfly on the cover, as does her favorite pillow.

Always looking for ways to enrich the lives of Benedictine’s residents, Ivy and Marcus proposed that a Monarch butterfly metamorphosis display be developed for residents, family members and staff to enjoy. Ivy donated her butterfly house. Madden, then a second grader at Underwood Elementary, set up the display along with his family members. They also created an informational board with pictures and descriptions of the metamorphosis process.

Soon four caterpillars were the newest residents at Benedictine Garrison. A calendar was created to track when the caterpillars were brought in, went into the chrysalis stage, hatched as butterflies, and finally released outdoors. Madden and his family even provided a magnifying glass so residents could easily see and observe the caterpillars in their journey.

Visiting the display regularly was Georgean. She keenly studied the information and smiled with delight as she watched one of the hatchlings emerge as a butterfly. This moment was shared on Benedictine Garrison’s Facebook page. A reply was posted by Ashley Evanoff of Minot, who shared, “Mrs. Gullickson was my 1st grade teacher. She started my love of Monarchs with milkweed and a caterpillar in a jar every summer. Now, I have a milkweed garden and share the Monarch love with my sons. I’m currently waiting on 4 more to hatch.”

“Georgean inspired many with her love of Monarch butterflies. We were so happy that we could give this back to her and our other residents,” states Deb Foss, life enrichment director at Benedictine Garrison.

“It’s wonderful to see that interest in the Monarchs is being passed down to younger generations.”

All of the butterflies were successfully hatched and released outdoors. In reflecting on the project, Madden and his family expressed a sense of satisfaction in sharing their love of Monarchs and seeing the joy it brought others. They discussed how important Monarch butterflies are to our ecosystem and that they are becoming endangered. “Everybody should plant milkweed and wildflowers for the butterflies. The flowers attract the butterflies, and the milkweed is where they lay their eggs,” explains Ivy.

Adds Deb, “We love to offer activities like this that bring young and old together and provide such enjoyment for everyone involved. We look forward to continuing the project again next summer.”

Youth Pheasant Weekend

North Dakota's two-day youth pheasant season Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 is a great opportunity to introduce a new hunter to the outdoors with limited competition. That's when legally licensed residents and nonresidents 15 and younger can hunt rooster pheasants statewide. An adult at least 18 must accompany the youth hunter in the field. The adult may not carry a firearm. A general game and habitat license is required, and hunters 12 and older need to have passed a certified hunter education course or obtain an apprentice hunter validation, which allows an individual to hunt small game for one license year without completing hunter education. The daily bag limit and all other regulations for the regular pheasant season apply. See the North Dakota 2023-24 Hunting and Trapping Guide for additional information.

Motorists Watch for Deer

Motorists should watch for deer along roadways this time of year as juvenile animals disperse from their home ranges. October through early December is the peak period for deer-vehicle accidents. Motorists are advised to slow down and exercise caution after dark to reduce the likelihood of encounters with deer. Most deer-vehicle accidents occur primarily at dawn and dusk when deer are most often moving around. Motorists should be aware of warning signs signaling deer are in the area. When you see one deer cross the road, look for a second or third deer to follow. Also, pay attention on roadways posted with Deer Crossing Area caution signs. Deer-vehicle accidents are at times unavoidable. If an accident does happen, law enforcement authorities do not have to be notified if only the vehicle is damaged. However, if the accident involves personal injury or other property damage, then it must be reported. In addition, a permit is required before taking possession of road-killed deer. Permits are free and available from game wardens and local law enforcement.

A few precautions can minimize chances of injury or property damage in a deer-vehicle crash:

- Always wear your seat belt.
- Don't swerve or take the ditch to avoid hitting a deer.
- Try to brake as much as possible and stay on the roadway.
- Don't lose control of your vehicle or slam into something else to miss the deer.
- You risk less injury by hitting the deer. If you spot deer ahead, slow down immediately and honk your horn.

Historical Look at Waterfowl in North Dakota

The storied past of waterfowl in North Dakota is uniquely revealed in the North Dakota Game and Fish Department's publication, "The Duck Factory - A History of Waterfowl in North Dakota." Certainly of interest to waterfowlers and other outdoor enthusiasts, the 213-page, full color, soft-cover publication is authored by Mike Jacobs and Erik Fritzell. The book traces the history of waterfowl species and their habitats in North Dakota. "The Duck Factory" is an important story because of North Dakota's longtime and continuing contribution to the world of migratory birds, said Mike Szymanski, Department migratory game bird management supervisor. "North Dakota is the most important state for breeding ducks," he added. "The contribution of ducks from North Dakota into the fall flight is unmatched by any other state, and its importance to duck hunters cannot be understated. Describing the history of waterfowl in North Dakota was a story that we felt was certainly worth telling." The book is sold only online for $24.99, including shipping, on the Game and Fish Department's website, gf.nd.gov, by clicking on Buy and Apply, and then Shop.
